Villager Chamber Backs Drive for Action on Sand

The Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce today joined forces with the Thousand Palm Chamber of Commerce in the campaign to have Riverside County erect "snow fences" along Ramon and Rio Del Sol roads to stem blowing sand.

Chamber Manager Jimmy Cooper went a step past the "snow fence" bid, however, when he additionally requested that the County Board of Supervisors embark on a tree planting program in the two areas to provide a long-range permanent answer to the hazard.

A "snow fence" will provide an immediate and partial solution to the problem, Cooper pointed out, but the need is for a permanent windbreak that will improve as the need for improvement grows. Trees, he said, will provide such an answer.

Motorists have termed the problem of blowing sand on the two roads as "an acute hazard."

Four Children Killed as Fire Destroys Home

PERRIS (UPI) — A teen-ager and three children burned to death Wednesday night when fire destroyed an old ranch house near here.

The dead were identified tentatively as Delfi Alvarez, 17; Diana Alvarez, 9; Michael Anthony Flores, 1; and Gloria Lopez, 9.

Mrs. Jesse Flores and three other children escaped from the house when flames engulfed it.

The Alvarez children were Mrs. Flores' by a previous marriage. The Lopez girl was an overnight guest.

Mrs. Flores said her husband was away at work on a construction job in Yuma, Ariz. Authorities were trying to contact him.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started from faulty electrical wiring.

Brown Concedes Favors Kennedy

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown conceded today he is leaning toward Sen. John F. Kennedy as the Democratic Party's presidential nominee.

Commenting on press reports that he is inclined toward the Massachusetts senator, Brown told a news conference that "I would not want to broaden that statement."

"BUT I HAVE great admiration for the way in which Kennedy went into all those primary election states and discussed the issues frankly," Brown said.

COUNCIL ADOPTS RECORD BUDGET

Although holding steadfast to reducing the budget "wherever possible," Palm Springs City Council last night added $6,000 to the proposed $74,000 Chamber of Commerce advertising and publicity budget and then approved a record $4,730,218 figure for the coming fiscal year.

The increase is $1,921,462 over last year's budget, but includes two bond issues voted by the people—the sewer construction bonds and the Tabquitz-McCallum paving bonds.

IN ORDER to raise the amount of money through taxation, and figuring it on the basis of an estimated assessed valuation of $69,000,000, City Manager Dan Wagner said today that the tax rate would be something "very close to $1.67 per $100 assessed valuation."

The major discussion was held on the budgeting of monies for advertising and publicity, and Councilman George Beebe, Jr., was visibly irritated over the fact that this money was referred to as a contribution or support to the Chamber. "When it is neither, the city has appointed the chamber its agent for handling its advertising and publicity monies."

BEEBE MOVED that the amount be set at $90,000 for the next year, but the motion lost in a tie (3-3) vote. A new motion increasing the budget to $80,000 passed in a 5-1 vote, with Councilwoman Mary Carlin dissenting.

Beebe specified that the added $6,000 should be used for the printing of much needed brochures which are distributed by the Chamber of Commerce.

THE ENTIRE council verified the fact that the chamber has "done an outstanding job in the advertising and publicity program during the last year," and drew a comment from Councilman Ted McKinney who said that as good a job could be done this year with the same amount of funds.

Just after the budget was adopted by the council, Ray Hiller, local hotel owner, rose to his feet to petition the council for "5,000 to be included in the budget to be used to investigate and if necessary send city representatives to Washington, D. C., to do something about the evicting of Senior Citizens from their homes on Section 14."

A MOTION BY Councilwoman Mary Carlin failed to get a second and the matter was dropped, but not before a heated exchange of words between members of the council and Hiller.

College Board, Architects Work On Building Plans

PALM DESERT — The Coachella Junior College board of trustees met Wednesday evening with architects working on plans for the initial buildings for preliminary final discussions of the plans.

Considered were layouts for the library, science building, a small shop, lecture hall, gymnasium, locker and mechanical building, a cafeteria building, and the administration and student center building. Robert Hart, representative of executive architect Warnecke, San Francisco, briefed the trustees on planning. General discussions and specific detail questions followed the presentation.

The board will reconvene at 11 a. m., July 1, to review progress and set the next meeting date.

Two Juveniles Face Car Theft

Palm Springs police arrested two juvenile escapees from Verdumont Boys Ranch, near San Bernardino, in a stolen car here at approximately 3 a. m., today.

'DO-IT-YOURSELF' SNAKE BITE KIT BRINGS ARREST

A "do-it-yourself" snake bite kit resulted in troubles early this morning for Raymond Allen Bowen, who gave no address.

Palm Springs police officer James Bale, who has been on the force approximately two months, apprehended Bowen for suspected intoxication at approximately 12:30 a. m. today. Bale made a routine check of Bowen's effects, found a snake-bite kit containing what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette. Further search turned up a quarter-cup of green leaves which also appeared to be marijuana, under the front seat of the suspect's car.

Bowen, who was booked on suspicion of possession of narcotics, was reportedly on probation for a similar charge from Los Angeles.

Bale, who previously served with the Pontiac, Mich., police force, was commended by fellow officers for his alertness.

$2.5 Million Budget Set For Schools

Board to Again Discuss Retarded Children Program

The Palm Springs Unified School District board will consider a budget totaling approximately $2,500,000 for operations during fiscal year 1960-1.

Prior to the preliminary budget adoption, the board will give further consideration to the proposed program for severely mentally retarded children asked for by the Palm Springs Foundation for Mentally Retarded Children.

J. M. McFadden, president of the Foundation, explained that the request for a local program was made because "there is no practical alternative to a school program. Hospitalization is needed for a very minute percentage of these children, and for those who don't need 24 hour institutional care, it is harmful — at least, that seems to be the position of the hospitals themselves."

He cited a statement from the Porterville state hospital's new annual report which stressed home environment.

LAST NIGHT, the Palm Springs City Council approved the Boys' Club board of directors action in voting to provide classroom space in the club building for a severely retarded program.

The council emphasized that use of the designated room would not conflict with any regular operations of the club, for the classes would be terminated prior to the normal daily operation of the club building. In addition, the room designated is not now slated for other uses.

A REVISED resolution relating to construction bond sales, and awarding of contracts to low supply bidders, plus adoption of specifications for other equipment and supplies will be included in the evening agenda.

The board meets at 7:30 p. m. in the High School music room.

Ben Henderson Services Set Here Friday

Funeral services for Benjamin Woodland Henderson, a Village lawyer for six years and a prominent Southern California attorney for the past 29 years, will be held at 1:30 p. m., tomorrow, at Wiefels and Son Chapel here.

Henderson died at 8:55 p. m., Tuesday, in Mentone, following a short illness. He was 65.

A NATIVE OF Ogden, Utah, Henderson came to California 35 years ago and established law offices here. He maintained his own law office here for the past six years.

He is survived by his wife, who lives at the couple's Palm Canyon Ranch here and by four daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Scanlon of Lakeview, Mrs. Benita Torres of Los Angeles, Mrs. Lucille Jackson of Glendale and Mrs. Barbara Stenger of Fairfax, Va.

HE IS ALSO survived by two brothers, Robert W. of Arimo, Ida, and Eral of Salt Lake City, Utah, and by one sister, Mrs. Bernice Gambols of Preston, Idaho. Eleven grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Interment is to be at Arimo, Idaho.

Claims 'Not Dead'

Saund Continues Date Bill Efforts

SPECIAL TO THE DESERT SUN — WASHINGTON — Congressman D. S. Saund said today he is continuing his efforts to have his Date Bill considered on the floor of the House of Representatives before Congress adjourns.

He said the bill "only appeared to be dead" when the House Rules Committee tabled the proposal that the bill be cleared for floor action Saturday.

A UNITED PRESS International story emanating from Washington Saturday reported that the bill had been "killed."

Saund said today that he prevailed upon Congressman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), who is Rules Committee chairman, to bring the bill before the committee again if one of the opposing committee members agrees to reconsider his position. Saund said there is a "good chance" that the bill will be taken up by the Rules Committee tomorrow.

THE CONGRESSMAN said he had telephoned John Babbage, attorney for the Coachella Valley Date Industry, this morning to report his efforts in behalf of the bill. Babbage was scheduled to meet with date industry representatives in Indio today.

Saund said "I requested Mr. Babbage to tell the date industry leaders that I believe there is a good chance we can get the rule and the bill passed and that they can be sure I am working — night and day — to that end."

Saund's bill seeks a uniform standard for all dates, including those produced by foreign nations. It would insure fair competition among foreign and domestic date growers and has particular impact on the Coachella Valley date market.

NEW TELEPHONE RATES PROTESTED

A group of hotel men, up in arms over California Water and Telephone Company's increase in service rates, appealed to the City Council last night asking that they request a protest hearing before the California Public Utilities Commission.

The group said that the company "is forcing us to subsidize it through the summer months by charging us exorbitant service rates to re-connect our telephone switchboards."

JOEL STONE, owner of Place in the Sun, told the council that he had only recently discovered that it would cost him $150 to re-connect his telephone service after he has had it off during the summer months, where the same service a year ago cost only $7.

He was supported by Sig Ehrens of the Crest View Hotel and Bill Foldes of the Palm Springs Hotel, who said their "reconnection" rates had also skyrocketed beyond any meaning.

BOB ALEXANDER, representing the Alexander Construction Company, told the council that telephone switchboards were not the only place which reflected increased rates. "Our rates for installing underground utilities have been doubled by the telephone company, but have not been increased by the power company."

California Water and Telephone Company Manager Doak Davis said today that they have no control over the cost of installation of underground utilities, but that the cost is set by bids on the project.

DAVIS FURTHER explained that the new charges were set by the PUC on the basis of a 12 month operation.

"We did have a minimum of holding two trunks and four stations on switchboards on a PBX, and re-install the full capacity of the board for $5," said Davis, "but now the charge is $5 per station."

HE EXPLAINED that although the telephone systems are off-service during the summer, it "still costs money to maintain the central office and support the equipment."

Stone told the council that he believed that the entire matter "has caused a great deal of poor public relations."

The council directed City Manager Dan Wagner to gather resolutions forthcoming from civic organizations and petition the Public Utilities Commission for a new hearing on the matter.

Church Conducts Clothing Drive To Aid Chileans

CATHEDRAL CITY — The Community Church of Cathedral City is currently sponsoring a clothing drive for the earthquake victims in Chile, in cooperation with the World Council of Churches, in an inter-denominational project.

Citizens of the community may leave clothes in the "Chile barrel" located in front of the church at the corner of E Street and Cathedral Canyon Drive.

The clothing collected here will be taken to Redlands for shipment to the distribution center.

POLICE HUNT BURGLARS WHO HAD LITTLE LUCK

Palm Springs police today are looking for burglars who didn't get away with it.

Three built-in stove and oven units were taken from model homes at Palm Springs Gateway Estates, at North Palm Canyon Drive and San Rafael. The units were loaded into a mobile electrical workshop truck parked at the construction site.

From there, the burglars ran into trouble. First, they stuck the stolen truck, loaded with stolen equipment, in the sand.

Next, the burglars found a small tractor, and attempted to pull out. Finally, they got the construction job's water truck in to operation. It stuck, too.

No loss, no burglars, is the current box score.

Terms Rules Group Action As 'Tragedy'

Press Secretary Tells of Efforts To Release Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today left to Democratic leaders the primary responsibility for salvaging school aid legislation from the scrap heap to which it was consigned by the House Rules Committee.

The vice president's views were relayed to newsmen by his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein. He said the vice president would consider it "a tragedy" if the education bill is sabotaged before it reaches the House and Senate.

SIX DAYS AGO, Klein said the vice president had taken the lead in an effort to free the measure from the Rules Committee and believed the bill had a "good chance." Wednesday the committee voted 7 to 1 against allowing it to go to a Senate-House conference.

Speaker Sam Rayburn suggested to newsmen that the rules action would be reversed. He did not say how.

TOP DEMOCRATS and Republicans had been reported working to undo the committee action in which all four Republicans joined three southern Democrats to sidetrack the bill.

Senate Republican Whip Thomas H. Kuchel (Calif.) called the committee action an "affront" to both houses and said it would be a "tragedy" to let the action stand.

THE COMMENTS pointed up general speculation among House and Senate members that one Democrat and one Republican who voted against the bill Wednesday would be persuaded to change their votes.

That would reverse the 7 to 3 ballot by which the powerful rules group refused to allow negotiations toward a compromise of differing school bills already passed by the House and Senate.

Truck Driver Escapes With Minor Injuries

INDIO — Truck driver Carl Russell Fox, 31, of Artesia, escaped with minor injury when his truck was forced off Highway 99 and overturned four-tenths of a mile south of Avenue 81 at 8:50 a. m., Wednesday, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

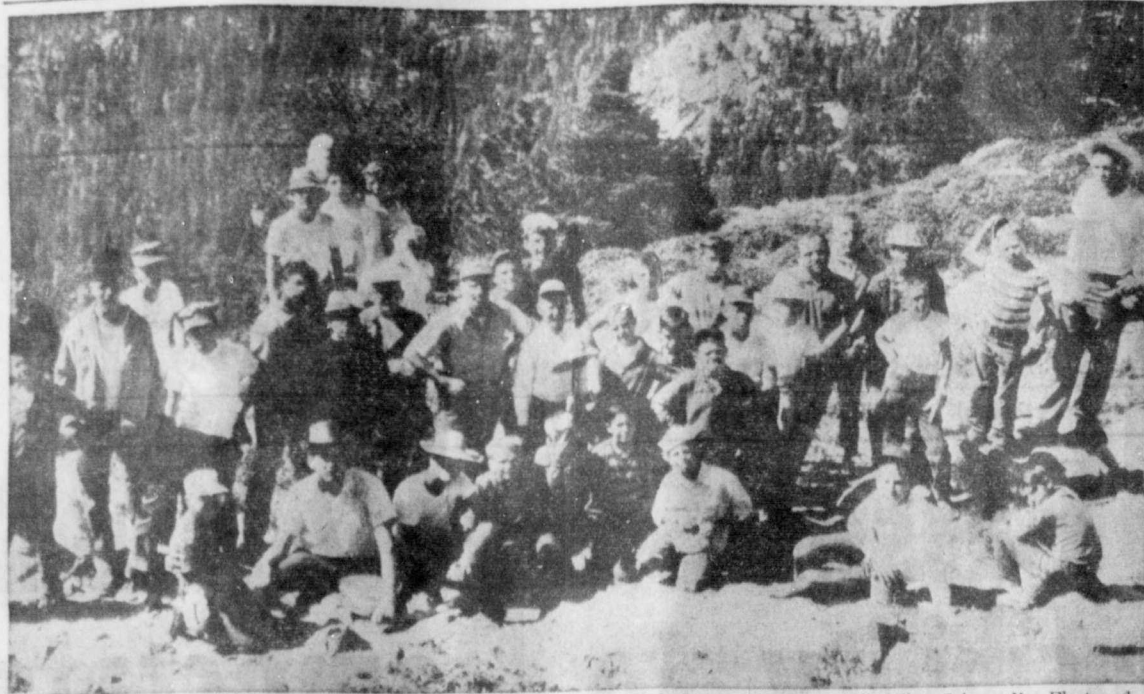

Fox, driving a tractor-trailer loaded with hay, attempted to pass a truck driven by Benito Campos, 33, of Pharr, Tex., when Campos pulled out to pass a pickup truck in front of him, forcing Fox from the road, the patrol reported. The tractor cab was crushed "almost to the seat" when it overturned, a patrol spokesman said, but Fox managed to crawl from the wreckage with minor injuries.

Downs Return From Trip to Oakland

By JEAN PATANE

Mr. and Mrs. John Downs and sons Bob and Dennis returned Monday night from a four day motor trip to Oakland. The occasion was the marriage of his nephew Kenneth Downs to Betty Nix solemnized at the Chapel on the Mills College campus. The bridegroom is a graduate of Stanford and the bride just graduated from Mills College.

Enroute home the Downs stopped to visit friends and relatives in Fresno, Pacific Grove — their former home — Santa Cruz, Chowchilla and Hayward.

Jack Thorne of Fresno returned to spend several weeks with his cousins Bob and Dennis.

Father's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sharp and daughter Christine was the occasion for a family get-together. Here for the weekend were his sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John McBride from Pasadena who were guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp, and his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sharp, and daughters Virginia and Kathleen, also from Pasadena who spent the weekend with the Ivan Sharps.

Also enjoying the poolside barbecue dinner Sunday were his other brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sharp and son Mike, from Palm Springs and their daughter, Mrs. Tom Donahue, who with her young sons Tommy and Ronnie have been visiting with her parents since Donahue left for sea duty with the Navy.

Early Tuesday morning the Ivan Sharps drove daughter Midge Donahue and the boys to Beaumont, Tex., where they will visit with Tom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Donahue, until he returns from sea duty. The Ivan Sharps plan on returning in about two weeks.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Steck for several days last week were her niece, Mrs. Donald Veith and children, David, Donald Jr. and Genevieve of Chicago.

They had visited in Yosemite National Park and before returning home planned a visit to Disneyland and with other relatives in Southern California.

Dr. Veith was unable to be with them due to summer school commitments at the California State College where he is professor of English.

Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs.

Again this summer Kitty Tiner, Cathedral City winter resident, is working at the pest office at Meeks Bay, Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Berton Lamb, with their son Lee and his friends Stanley DeGrucio and Phillip Singler, spent last week at Lake Moovaya on the Colorado River. Berton Lamb and their daughter, Janice, with her guest Paula Thill of Twentynine Palms, joined them for the weekend. Saturday Janice celebrated her thirteenth birthday.

Reverend James Arnold, pastor of the Cathedral City Community Church, and Elder Commissioner Don Veith attended the Presbyterian meeting held at the First Presbyterian Church in San Bernardino on Tuesday.

After a three week visit in Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Don Butler, worth returned to their Desert home early Saturday morning.

Their first stop was Phoenix then to the Grand Canyon, Sunset Crater, Meteor Crater and the Petrified Forest. They returned to Phoenix for a few days to visit again with friends.

Sunday morning they left for Los Angeles to attend the services Monday morning for his aunt, Miss Nettie Butterworth, with whom he grew up, returning home Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Matthews of Long Beach were weekend houseguests at the "G" Street home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen McNeil.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Steck for several days last week were her niece, Mrs. Donald Veith and children, David, Donald Jr. and Genevieve of Chicago.

They had visited in Yosemite National Park and before returning home planned a visit to Disneyland and with other relatives in Southern California.

Dr. Veith was unable to be with them due to summer school commitments at the California State College where he is professor of English.

Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs.

Steck had as their houseguests her nephew and family Mr. and Mrs. Richard Welch and daughter Carole, who are in Southern California from their home in East Alton, Illinois, to visit relatives and friends.

Mrs. Eleanor Abbott returned Tuesday from an extended visit at the Covina home of her son and family Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Massie. Last week her granddaughter and family — the Massie's daughter — Mr. and Mrs. Ted Peuchert and children, Teddy Jr. and Debbie, of Los Angeles enjoyed swimming and relaxing at her parents' Flying Estates home, returning to Covina for Father's Day.

Linda Marks, who came over from Germany over a year ago to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Park, spent two weeks in Long Beach at the home of Mrs. Park's mother Mrs. John Lee. The Parks are closing their Cottage Cafe at the end of this week for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hayhurst and son Johnny left last week to spend the summer in Redwood City.

Last Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Walter Colglazier hosted a steak barbecue patio dinner party honoring the birthday of her father, Harold E. Colglazier.

Guests included her sister Mrs. Cora Jackson, her mother Mrs. Mabel Montayne, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tompkins and Irene Turner. On Sunday — celebrating Father's Day — Walter Colglazier, his son, Mike, Harold Colglazier and Danny Knowlton attended the Dodger game at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a man for well over a year. I admire him immensely and enjoy his companionship, but only when we are in public or with friends.

This may sound ridiculous, as we are not in our teens. We are both in our middle forties, each previously married.

I am certainly not "cold" but, Abby, could you stand to be kissed and hugged and told the same endearing things every time you are alone, be it ten minutes or ten hours?

ANNOYED
DEAR ANNOYED: I could if I loved the man. And so could you.

DEAR ABBY: What should a widow do with her rings? Does she transfer them to her right hand? Or does she put them away altogether? What if she has children? It doesn't look right for a mother to walk around without a wedding band. Yet, if I wear my wedding band and meet an eligible man he'll think I am married. And if I wear my engagement ring, he'll think I am engaged. There must be other young widows who are also wondering, so won't you please answer me in your column?

YOUNG WIDOW
DEAR YOUNG WIDOW: Widows who are interested in remarrying should put their rings away.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"WILLING WATER"

Now is the time to remember that the few minutes a day you spend watering will repay you in happy garden hours this summer.

Evaporation is highest now, and the smart gardener who wants larger, more vigorous plants... smoother, greener lawns... and increased blooms and color in flowers... maintains a consistent watering program.

Our experts say that, ordinarily, too much water is used in desert gardening. Our desert soil can hold very little water, so excessive watering results only in waste. 5 to 10 minutes watering with an efficient sprinkling system or sprinkler to a moisture penetration of about three inches is sufficient.

Another recommendation is to water in the evening, and frequently. Water efficiently, not wastefully!

'Act One' Exception For Hart

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — The memoirs of show business figures seldom create much of a stir in literary circles. "Act One" by Moss Hart should be an exception.

Most such books, whether actually written by the subject or composed by a "ghost," have little claim to writing distinction. With their anecdotal style and clutter of triumphs and failures in a long list of plays, movies or other ventures, they are chiefly of interest to the comparatively small segment of professionals and to the most avid of fans sufficiently in pocket to afford their purchase. Sales generally are small.

PLAYWRIGHT HART'S book offers no titillating sensations. It is, in fact, almost placid. But neither is it a mere collection of anecdotes and incidents. It is a fine and revealing piece of writing by a man who knows how to observe and write. I call it distinguished. By Random House, covers only the first phase of Hart's life — his impoverished New York childhood, his long and heartbreaking struggle to make a career in the theater and the eventual triumph as co-author with George S. Kaufman of that satirical play about the movies, "Once in a Lifetime," in 1930.

THE VOLUME is full of revealing word pictures of varied segments of New York life—the way of the poor in the early part of this century; the Broadway theatrical scene of the 1920's; the early unglamorous days of the now respectable "borscht circuit" of resort hotels in the Catskills; the struggles of young unknowns to gain recognition in show business. There are splendid pictures, too, of many of the period, Broadway personalities of the period. The word portrait of Kaufman is a masterpiece.

I suppose that, as many another theatrical book, anecdotes abound, but they are not presented here merely as anecdotes. They are woven unobtrusively into a well-textured story and are difficult to identify as such. The book escapes the curse of being simply another "inside" work on show business because the author is enough of a craftsman to make it his to the line of being the story of a man.

Villager Gets Cash, Recognition at Bowl

By GEORGE LAINE

The young artist in music, drama, painting, writing, dance and other allied endeavors has labored for centuries without any recognition save his own confidence in his own abilities.

Last spring, over a luncheon at USC's faculty cafeteria, Dimitri Kabelevsky — who was then on an evaluation tour of U. S. music institutions with Dimitri Shostakovich and six other ranking Soviet composers — said that the reason Russia's musical cup overfloweth is that Red musical experts evaluate young talent and then see to it that exceptionally gifted artists receive the instruction and direction they need.

IN A WAY, REDLANDS Bowl Associates is providing a sort of capitalistic answer to this age-old problem of providing young talent with the impetus to continue.

Next Tuesday, five young artists — including Palm Springs' Robert E. Webb — will make their way to the center of the Redlands Bowl and deliver a sample of the talent that won them the 9th Annual Redlands Bowl Young Artists Auditions titles.

In addition to Webb, the winners include Sandra Lynne Smith, a Covina pianist; Claire Sheldon, a Yucaipa violinist; Eugene Kilday, an East Highlands pianist, and D'Ann Goley, an Arlington violinist.

I DON'T KNOW if Russia has the complete answer with the full subsidization of talented children now employed there.

But I do know that many a talented American child has literally chucked his musical capabilities out the window to become a salesman or a technician or something else, sheerly out of economic necessity.

Somewhere in between is a happy middle — ground, I'm sure. Some amount of experience in the "tough life" school is of great value to a performing artist in any field. (In fact, it is the moulding of character achieved by this that forbids the "easy way" methods of the Russians.) It will may be that the Redlands Bowl Associates — with their public recognition in their annual recital and the cash award that attends it — have found that middle — ground that will keep talented musical artists on the road to greater ability, greater expression, — and greater reward.

NOTES OFF THE CUFF: June Schuster will move into the Hilltop Room's comfortable confines this Friday and Saturday to augment the music of Raoul and Gustavo . . . But the big news is due a week later . . . Keep watching. Too bad the Village didn't take a shot at the "other" Miss California pageant while they were at it . . . ## Golf Leads in U.S.

Golf is one of the leading businesses in the Desert area.

That's obvious by the number of courses now constructed, others in the planning stages, and still more remaining in the rumor category.

And now comes news that golf leads all athletic goods sales in the United States by a more than 2 to 1 margin over its nearest competitor. Total sales in 1959 were $79,000,000, or 41 per cent of the gross athletic goods market.

The figures, supplied by the Athletic Goods Manufacturers' Association, showed baseball and softball equipment a distant second with sales of $34,000,000.

A number of years ago Palm Springs as a "Golf Capital" would have drawn laughter from throughout the United States. But times have changed since then.

With 12 golf courses located in Palm Springs and in the Desert area between here and Indio, Golf has become big business. Home developments — of the luxury variety — surround most courses, developments which would not now be a reality.

Palm Springs area is now the home of the Desert Classic, richest Golf tournament in the country. And there are many more tournaments held here which attracts thousands of visitors throughout the year.

Golfing is big business throughout the nation.

And it's big business in the Desert too.

Soft on Kennedy

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It's easy to be soft on Kennedy after listening to the Massachusetts Senator make one of his good speeches. Unfortunately, we are living in a soft — currency period of language, when the cliché circulates too freely. The inflationary influence has devalued the value of good words to near — nothingness.

I was sorry, after Senator Kennedy finished his Foreign Policy speech last Tuesday, to hear Acting Majority Floor Leader Mansfield get up and congratulate the speaker on "maturity... courage... honesty."

It doesn't take any particular exercise of these noble qualities to read a prepared Senate floor speech which never departed from a single norm of the two-party foreign policy of the past 15 years.

BUT IT WAS a thoughtful, well-prepared and well-delivered address. The soft — on — Kennedy reaction was evident in the press gallery. Even those who prefer another Democrat or any Republican as our next President will be reconciled if Jack Kennedy makes the White House.

Before the nomination and election fights get any rougher, let us put it on record that Kennedy is no sawdust candidate, no "boy" and no political accident. Maybe we could get a better man for the 1961-65 backbreaker, but this one's all right — he'll do.

HIS FOREIGN Policy speech of June 14 can be picked apart for dearth of originality and absence of hard remedies for what ails us, but the faults are those of our time rather than those of the Senator. After nearly 200 years of American freedom, 34 presidential campaigns of sorts, 42 years of internationalism and 15 years of cold war against Communism, how do you stay conformist (as Kennedy certainly is) and still offer new things to say or new proposals for old problems?

Unless you are willing to agree with Barry Goldwater that we must win, not merely endure, the cold war, there is nothing new to be added. Nearly everything that can be said against Kennedy's Foreign Policy statement can be used as an indictment of the Administrations of Presidents Truman and Eisenhower. For example, the Kennedy speech was:

AGAINST SUCH clichés as: "standing up to Khrushchev," "soft on Communism," "party of war and party of appeasement."

For such clichés as: "to build positions of strength," "the real issue," "a strong America" and a "free world."

For "Share The Wealth" when it comes to sending millions of dollars, as well as "food banks" and technical aid to Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Latin America and especially to India, where they have a 5-year plan of socialization, and also to Poland, which is inside the Soviet orbit.

FOR "KEEP America Strong" when it comes to a "nuclear power second to none," "ultimate missiles that can close the gap," much more "conventional forces" for the Army and Marines and a "viable and consolidated military force, capable of deterring any kind of attack" in NATO.

Against the Republican policy which the late Secretary Dulles called "liberation," and which we proached but didn't practice when Hungary, East Germany and Poland tried to revolt.

FOR A Democratic policy for a "free" Berlin which, along with West Europe, would be emancipated by "seeds of liberty."

Against the Republican China policy, "which has dismally failed... to prevent a steady growth in Communist strength."

For a Democratic China policy which would include "a reduction of tension in the Formosa Strait" and unnamed methods "to improve our communications with mainland China," as well as "to restore our historical friendship with the Chinese people."

THERE IS NOTHING, I think, in the Kennedy Foreign Policy which could not — and probably will not — show up in the Nixon (or Rockefeller) Foreign Policy with only a change of party labels.

But this fault belongs, to repeat, as much to our time as to our candidates. It is a day to arm and disarm, to be adamant and yet reasonable, to be "second to none" and yet to build up past enemies into future rivals.

Do not ask our 1960 candidates to be clear and consistent — since they cannot be. But ask them to be serious, hard-working, knowledgeable of the dangers. These things can be said for Senator Kennedy.

—HOLMES ALEXANDER

Letters to the Editor

Editor
The Desert Sun
This letter is from a bitter man.

December 1941 is a long time ago. Most people have forgotten or are hazy as to how the Japanese envoys who were meeting with our State Department, conducted themselves. They knew war was imminent, they knew the date, yet they bowed and smirked. They presented bland smiling faces to our people and stalled for time knowing full well what was to happen on that fateful December 7. A murderous surprise attack which resulted in killing and wounding several thousands of our young men and nearly crippling our ability to fight back on the sea. I repeat that they KNEW in advance what would happen and they kept talking hoping to lull us to a false sense of security.

Afterwards, when we did get into the war with them in earnest, we whipped them so badly they were glad to surrender. Not in 500 years has any nation received such a beating. After the surrender we helped them. We gave them millions, loaned them more. Tried to teach them democracy and a better way of life. That war cost us thousands of casualties, our sons, mine among them, fathers, brothers, sweethearts. Billions of dollars. All of us hated the Japs and rightly for their dastardly sneak attack which they had been planning for years. Our hearts were heavy because of the loss of loved ones. Over the years since, our hatred of the Japs has grown less and our loss of loved ones has been somewhat assuaged by time.

We now come to the present. To our dismay we see the same pattern forming again as it did in 1941. Asia for the Asians. That is the way they feel and it will never change. We have been forced to establish military bases in the Japanese homeland to protect ourselves against Communism. We desperately need those bases. After all we have done for the Japanese the least they could have done was to ratify our treaty concerning these bases without delay. Did they do so? You who have read this far know that if they do it will only be to save face which means much to them.

Meanwhile, they manhandled a car containing members of our President's staff on his visit there. This was fomented by Communists. Did the Japanese, the so-called majority of the people rise up and demand that these riots cease? Not that I read in any paper. It has been said, that what has happened, including calling off our President's visit was not the wishes of the vast majority of the people. This I doubt. Remember God our President did not visit their country. Had they touched him or worse still, killed him, then we certainly would have had to go in and teach them another lesson.

Just when I thought, as every good American should, that my hatred for the Japanese was slowly dying and I could learn to live with and associate with them, just as my sorrow over my loss of a son had been growing a little less, this last episode happened. The hatred of the Japs is back ten fold. I will never knowingly buy or use anything made by them again as long as I shall live. If I had any plans to visit Japan, I would cancel them. I think a lot of people here or will do just that.

Steamship lines have cancelled 90 per cent of their stop-overs at Havana, Cuba, because of the behavior of that Dictator there. Hotel business is nil. He is suffering from a lack of American tourist dollars. That really hurts, lots worse than polite notes from our lace-sleeved, striped pants boys in the State Department. We could make the Japs suffer from the same medicine by just staying away. Why not try it?

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

Climb in a jet,
Be on your way
When you get there
It's yesterday.

This piece is designed for Thursday, June 23, but it being written on Sunday, June 19, Father's Day.

Which makes me think that while most of us dads are being treated with respect and given loving care today, another father is getting the works.

That's Father Time and he is literally being taken for a ride.

WAS READING this (Sunday) morning about travel in the near future, about newly designed jets that will take you from New York to Paris in two hours, from New York to Los Angeles in less than an hour.

Which item unlocked the imagination and let it run riot.

If that speed comes to pass, as they say it surely will, you will be able to leave New York at 8 a.m. and land in Los Angeles at 6 a.m., same day.

ALONG THAT LINE, supposing you left at 1 a.m. Wednesday.

You'd be here at 11 p.m. Tuesday.

And supposing you were coming the other way, flying east. If you could fly from New York to Paris in two hours, the same type of jet plane should bring you from Tokyo to Los Angeles in around three hours.

SO IF YOU left Tokyo at 8 a.m. Wednesday, you'd get here at 6 p.m. Tuesday and leave Wednesday all over again.

That's really giving old Father Time a belt in the midriff. And another article, detailed an aircraft that will take you around the world in three hours.

AFTER BREAKFAST you wander down to the airport, board a plane at 8 a.m., say on a Tuesday, and you're back in Palm Springs, after circling the globe, at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

In the meantime, you'll have spent half of that time on a Wednesday.

Was thinking out loud about that Tokyo - Los Angeles trip from Wednesday into Tuesday when I was grounded fast.

REMEMBER THIS, said Mrs. G. "You may leave there on Wednesday and get here the day before — but you'll still be three hours older than when you left. Father Time still has the edge on you."

"And besides, even if this is Father's Day, you had better get cleaned up and dressed. You have company coming."

"YOU MAY BE ABLE to fly from New York to Los Angeles in an hour, but the way traffic is, it will take them an hour to come from Los Angeles to the beach."

"Here are two more observations on time," she added. "While you have been sitting there gobbling it up days at a gulp, it still marches on."

"Also, planes aren't the only things that fly. Time flies and you had better be up and at it."

Oh, well. It was something to think about.

STAN DELAPLANE: This Side of Simba!

"The hunter can have radios, refrigerators, air mattresses, electric lighting and a high standard of comfort. Well — cooked, five-course meals are served attractively; hunting clothes are laundered each day and well-trained servants wait on his every need." —Brochure of the Mount Kenya Safari Club.

THE MAIL this morning is from Darkest Africa. It brings out the primitive, the killer in me.

For some time now, we have been planning a safari — it is about the only thing left you can do and brag about these days. So I was pleased to get the rundown from the elegant Mount Kenya Safari Club of which I am a member.

THE CLUB was started by Mr. Ryan, the oil tycoon, and Mr. William Holden of the movies.

It is a little bit of home for us hunters — "There is a heated swimming pool, Turkish bath and massage, beauty parlor, barber shop, golf course and underwater observation cocktail lounge," says the Club brochure.

SINCE MANY people will want to go on safari, I ran down a little cost sheet.

"An excellent room, including board, is available for less than $10 a day," says the booklet, a price I consider most fair.

The cost of getting to the Club is not exactly like getting on a streetcar. It is $1,611 round trip from New York — $108 extra if you want to go de luxe, and I imagine you do.

THIS PUTS YOU into your $10 a day room. It does not get you out on safari.

The cost of a 30-day safari is $3,000. This may seem a little high at first. But you must remember that it includes one professional White Hunter — (not William Holden) — tentage and camp equipment and a radio receiving set.

IT ALSO INCLUDES an African staff of gunbearers, skin-

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Spec Shooting Started

HOLLYWOOD — Debbie Reynolds has already started shooting her first TV spec. It won't be ABCast until Halloween, five months from now. Boo!

I looked in at the progress being made on star-studded Hollywood Boulevard, in gen-u-wine terrazzo, with the names of Tinseltown's immortals. I discovered that Patty McCormack's name is misspelled (she's underfoot as "McCormick") and that Charles Boyer appears twice, four stars apart, right at Hollywood and Vine.

I ASKED ABOUT this and was handed this chatter about the Frenchman: "Vive la France — one is for his movies; the other is for his TV work. And the fact that the names are four stars apart has nothing to do with his being one of the owners of Four Star Productions!"

Curt Jurgens staged a screening of I Aim At The Stars for Vice President Nixon. Space Master Werner von Braun and some Pentagon panjandrums. Now all they need before they release the movie is Mort Sahl's okay.

SPARTACUS AUTHOR Howard Fast is preparing a Tversion of his novel — this despite the $12,000,000 movie, already in the can, starring Sir Laurence Olivier, Tony Curtis, Kirk Douglas, Jean Simmons, Charles Laughton and umpteen other stars. This also despite the fact that Fast owns a percentage of the picture's profits. Heads of Bynaprod, who made the movie profess bewilderment at Fast's move.

George Montgomery is working for his wife this week — with their children — in front of the cameras. They're filming a TV commercial for Dinah Shore's show. It shows them getting in and out of a car. I forget what kind of car.

EFREM ZIMBALIST, JR., back in Hollywood from Reno after an unsuccessful stab at securing his estranged spouse's signature on the divorce paper, doesn't have time to brood about it. He's working day and night to finish a solid stack of 77 Sunset Strip segments, following which he'll make a movie, Fever in the Blood — then back to TV as fast as he can gallop, to finish 15 more Stripes for the September new-season start!

Two-listed drinking man Joe E. Lewis says his last session in surgery prove just one thing — that you CAN cut Scotch in California.

It's either Ava Gardner or Gina Lollobrigida for Ford's femme lead in his next picture. The Image Makers. It was originally for Kim Novak but she's still suffering from hepatitis.

TONY CURTIS wants to do The Hook for Perleberg-Sentou. It's about three GI's who chicken out on killing a Korean POW, as ordered by the brass. ## Walker-Buccino Wedding Vows Recited at St. Louis Church

Honeymooning in Balboa are the Conrad George Walkers who were married Saturday morning at St. Louis Catholic Church with Father Joseph Leisler officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who is the former Angela Buccino, daughter of the Michael Buccinos of Rancho Mirage, wore a gown of embroidered Swiss organdy, with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. A short veil was held up by a crown of embroidered organdy and she carried cascading gardenias.

Lucy Evans, of Denver, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Gretchen Gearhart, Charlene Farrar and Linda Compton. The bridal attendants wore light blue gowns with lace bodices and bouffant skirts of shantung. They carried white carnation bouquets tied with blue.

Bill Compton of Lancaster was best man and the ushers were Vern Valdez and Michael Buccino Jr.

Around 150 friends and relatives attended the reception and champagne brunch at Shadow Mountain Club, where the newlywed pair cut a three-tiered wedding cake that was jeweled and topped with miniature bride and groom.

The bride is a graduate of Coachella Valley Union High school and of San Diego College for Women. The bridegroom, son of the Conrad Paul Walkers of Lancaster, attended San Diego College for Men and will be studying law there for the next three years.

The Walkers will spend the summer in Los Angeles, returning to San Diego this fall.

Bonnie Anderson To Be Married to George Richards

Miss Bonnie Anderson of 31-431 Avenida Pueblo, will be married June 29 to George Richards of Beverly Hills. The wedding will take place in Michigan, and tentative plans include a Hawaiian honeymoon. Miss Anderson was a physical education teacher at Palm Springs High School.

Tasty Topping

Try this strawberry - coconut-whipped cream topping on puffed rice for breakfast. Gently stir 1/4 cup of confectioners' sugar, 1 pint of cut up fresh strawberries and 1/2 cup of flaked or shredded coconut into 1/2 cup of cream, whipped. Garnish with whole berries. This makes enough for 4 cups of cereal.

Villagers to Go On Pervy Trip

A number of local people are leaving for Europe on a Pervy 48-day tour of 10 countries. These include Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cleek, Mr. and Mrs. H. ## Coconut Sauce

Cherry coconut sauce makes a colorful topping for vanilla pudding. Blend 1/2 cup of flaked coconut with 1/4 cup of chopped maraschino cherries (about 10 cherries), and 2 tablespoons each of grated orange rind and maraschino cherry juice. Serve over pudding prepared from one 3/4-ounce package of vanilla pudding and pie filling mix.

Today's Western

Single Hero Not Enough for TV

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Remember the good old days when William S. Hart and Bronco Billy Anderson could carry a western story all by themselves? Even Roy Rogers and Gene Autry appealed to all members of the family. Various age groups and intellectual divisions appreciated them.

BUT A SINGLE hero isn't enough for today's TV horse operas. This is the era of the specialist. Producers have to crowd the corral with a whole passel of good guys, so a discriminating viewer can sort through them and come up with one particular hero with whom he can "identify" himself. Psychology, they call it.

AT LEAST, that's what Mike London of the "Bonanza" series calls it. And he should know because he's one of the shows multiple good guys. "I play a rebellious young man with a sort of chip on his shoulder," Mike explained. "This makes me popular with teen-agers and other non-conformist types who feel they are misunderstood."

"LORNE GREENE is the father image—for reviewers who feel a hero should be strong and courageous. A rock of granite in a tough situation."

LILLIAN GISH IN 'THE GLASS HARP'

Making one of her rare television appearances, Lillian Gish stars in Truman Capote's "The Grass Harp," the romantic fantasy which studies two aging sisters who have always been very close but who are entirely different as individuals. On "The Play of the Week" tonight, Thursday, from 8 to 10 p.m. on KCOP, Channel 13.

Also starring in the two-hour drama are Russell Collins and Carmen Mathews.

'This Man Must Die' on Zane Grey Theater

Dan Duryea stars in the story of a man who escapes on the eve of his hanging in order to seek out the man whose lies wrongly convicted him of murder in "This Man Must Die" on "Dick Powell's Zane Grey Theater" Thursday, June 23 (8:30-9:30 p.m.). (This is a re-broadcast.)

Role of Cleaning Women Is Adopted

"Policewoman" Casey Jones changes from art patron to cleaning woman in investigating a swindle involving a copy of a famous Van Gogh during the episode titled "Shadow of Van Gogh," Thursday, June 23, 9:30-10 p.m., Channel 11.

An excellent copy of a Van Gogh is sold as the original, and Casey is asked to investigate. Posing as an art patron, she goes from gallery to gallery, until she finally locates the desolate young Greenwich Village artist who was commissioned to do the copy of the Van Gogh.

After talking to the artist, Casey becomes suspicious of the propri-

"Then there's Dan Blocker who plays a sort of lovable slob. He provides humor for people who like to identify themselves with an easy-going approach to life."

"Finally, Pernell Roberts plays the cultured, straight-from-the-shoulder kind of character. The noble, old-fashioned hero."

"SEE, GREENE plays the father of the rest of us, and as a group viewers can also identify with us as one big family. For families with servants who wish to identify, we have a Chinese cook, played by Victor Sen Yung. "That also helps us with Oriental fans."

If Mike's theories prove out, there's no telling where this identification thing will end.

FUTURE OATERS may have a dozen heroes appearing regularly, but of different nationalities, religions, minority groups, political beliefs and various shapes and sizes.

In that event there would be someone on the program with whom each and every viewer could identify.

"I don't know how far it will go," Mike said, "but I don't mind co-starring with three other actors."

"This way the show has more directions to go. And, like I said earlier, each of us sort of has his own following—the viewers who identify with us."

Olympic High Diver Shows Stunts, Dives

Former Olympic champion high diver Russ Dotson is seen performing some of his stunts and spectacular dives in "High Diver" on "Danger is My Business," Thursday, June 23, 6:30 p.m., KCOP, Channel 13.

YOUTH'S SECRET WORLD IS SHOWN

"The Secret World of Eddie Hodges," an hour-long special about a 10-year-old boy who dreams about what he would like to do and be when he grows up, will be presented Thursday, June 23 (10-11 p.m., p.d.t.) on the CBS Television Network.

Eddie Hodges stars as the young lad, and Hugh O'Brien, Doris Karloff and Janis Paige portray some of the people in his world of enchantment.

NORMAN JEWISON produces and directs the program, which will be choreographed by Peter Gennaro. The script for the program is being prepared by George Foster, Frank Peppiatt and John Aylesworth.

Young Eddie Hodges rose to fame in the Broadway hit, "The Music Man," and has starred on television in such programs as "Holiday, U.S.A." and the film "A Hole in the Head."

BORIS KARLOFF recently starred in "Playhouse 90" and "To the Sound of Trumpets" and in the Du Pont "Show of the Month" production of "Treasure Island." Hugh O'Brien stars on television as "Wyatt Earp," which is the character he will portray on "Eddie Hodges."

CHP Hunts Boy Who May Destroy His Own Eyesight

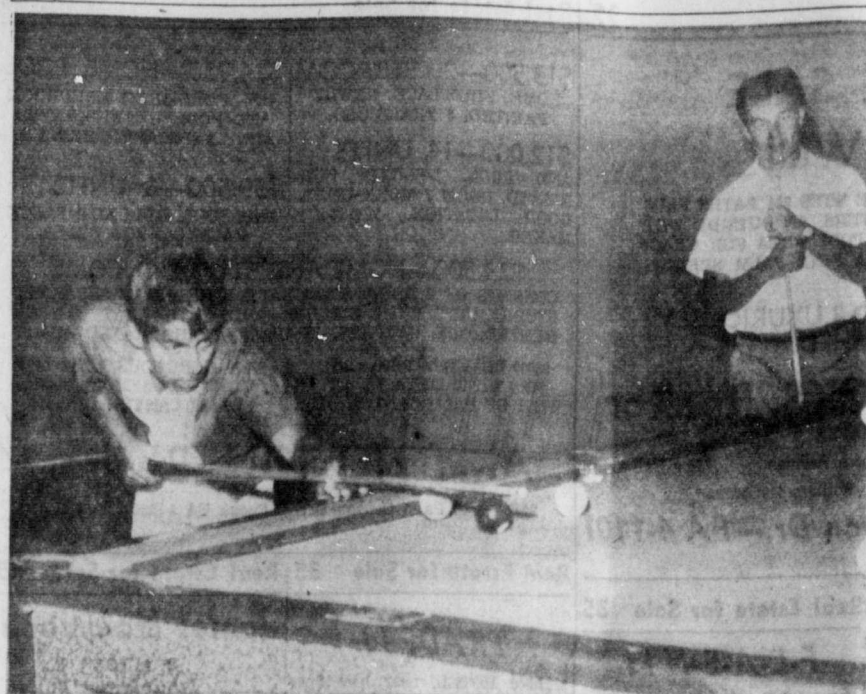

Broderick Crawford, starring as Highway Patrol Chief Dan Mathews, leads his men in a race against time to save a boy's eyesight during KTTV's "Highway Patrol" adventure, Thursday, June 23, at 9 p.m. on Channel 11.

Unreasonable fear of an eye operation drives young Jimmy West to flee his home. When Dan Mathews mobilizes his men to go after him, the lad's doctor warns Dan that immediate surgery is necessary to preserve Jimmy's sight—and Jimmy's rapidly weakening vision could lead to permanent blindness or a fatal accident.

All forces and a helicopter trace the boy to a certain stretch of highway and Dan learns that the boy has been seen in the company of a tramp.

COUNTY RETAIL SALES RECORD SHARP UPSWING

RIVERSIDE — Riverside County showed a 141 per cent increase in taxable retail sales in 1959 compared to 1958, according to a detailed analysis completed by the Riverside County Board of Trade Research Division. Total taxable retail sales by retail outlets in 1959 reached $274,408,000, compared to $240,158,000 in 1958.

Fred J. Reinhardt, Industrial Research manager of the Riverside County Board of Trade, pointed out that all cities in the county showed gains in taxable retail sales with the exception of Beaumont.

BATH, Maine (UPI) — John Sylvester, 43, probably won't eat shellfish for another 20 years. Twenty years ago he swore off the stuff when he was poisoned by some crabmeat. He ended his fast recently by trying a lobster stew and had to be rushed to the hospital in a police ambulance.

YOUTHS KEEP BUSY — ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — The Minnesota Department of Employment Security last year supervised 72 youth employment clubs with 8,700 members who were placed on such jobs as weeding gardens, moving lawns and shoveling snow.

Nippy in Cincinnati? Not Around Alston

CINCINNATI (UPI) — It might be a little nippy in this Ohio hamlet today, but for the hapless Los Angeles Dodgers, 12 games out of first place in the National League, the weather was hot. And not a little of the heat smoked from the collar of Manager Walter Alston.

The Dodgers are to meet the fourth-place Redlegs tonight at Crosley Field, with a roasting by Alston still looming large in their memories.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S scheduled game between the two clubs was rained out.

Alston decided Wednesday night to pitch Danny McDevitt (6-1), instead of Stan Williams (5-1), tonight against the Redlegs. Cincinnati was going with Jay Hook or Jim O'Toole.

Alston tore into his players Tuesday night after losing to the Reds and threatened the team with fines for misdeeds on the diamond.

"I DON'T want to take their money, and I've never done it as long as I've managed the Dodgers, but this careless, sloppy play must stop."

"What burned me to a crisp was the fact that we'd just gone over these mistakes in a meeting before the game," Alston said.

"LOOK AT the games we have lost on two-strike hits this month alone. I don't expect our pitchers to bounce the ball up there when the count is 0 and 2 and I certainly would not blame them if the batter connected on a bad serve. But they've just got to quit giving 'em good ones in these situations."

"It's not a question of lack of hustle," Alston said. "My guys are out there trying. But, dammit, they're making too many mistakes."

SIGHTING FOR THE KILL. Rafael Rodriguez aligns his sword with the middle of the hump on a silent but raging fighting bull. Rodriguez, one of Mexico's most respected matadors, will join an all-star matador lineup Sunday for the opening of the new Plaza Monumental de Tijuana—"The Bullring by the Sea." A large delegation of Villagers is planning to attend.

NEWEST TIJUANA BULL RING OPENS

TIJUANA — The new Plaza Monumental, reported to be the world's second biggest bullring, will hold its grand inaugural bullfight Sunday with a top billing of matadors and bulls.

Seating 25,000 persons, the new plaza tops a dramatic headland projecting into the Pacific due west of Tijuana. It is constructed of pre-stressed concrete and was completed in just 3½ months.

THE PLAZA Monumental, deriving its name from a historic coastal marker on the Mexican-American border, is larger than any bullring in Spain or Mexico except Mexico City's famed Plaza. Its dramatic site, 4½ miles from downtown Tijuana over a high-speed highway, just completed, prompts its sobriquet "the bullring by the sea."

Alfonso Ramirez — "El Calero" — will fight the first bull on Sunday. Called "the poet" in Mexico, he is famous for his elegant style in all three phases of the "corrida." Many Americans will remember "El Calero" for his performance in the motion picture "Fiesta" with Esther Williams.

SECOND MATADOR on Sunday's card is Rafael Rodriguez, another of Mexico's best-loved bullfighters. He was hailed recently in Mexico City as "greatest matador of the season."

Well-remembered for a brilliant performance in Tijuana two years ago is Antonio del Olivar, third matador on the bill. Critics consider him the younger bullfighter to watch.

Bulls for the Plaza Monumental's opening afternoon, from the famed ranch of Jose Julian Llaguno, come from the most respected strain of fighting bulls in Mexico. Weighing more than 1100 pounds each, they are of a size and bloodline never before seen in Tijuana.

Friend, Law Set Hot Pace, 20-5

Friend Notches No. Nine

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Bob Friend and Vern Law are giving the Pittsburgh Pirates the National League's best 1-2 pitching combination since Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer almost single-handedly hurled the Cincinnati Reds to the flag in 1939.

The league has seen such brilliant duos, as Mort Cooper and Johnny Beazley, Sal Maglie and Larry Jansen, and Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette in the last 20 years. But Friend and Law look like they'll surpass the exploits of 'em all.

YOU HAVE TO go all the way back to that '39 season when Walters won 27 games and Derringer won 25 to find a pair with a pace to match the Pirate stars.

In fact, with 20 victories between them in 60 games, Friend and Law are traveling at exactly the pace that would give them 52 wins—the same number totaled by Walters and Derringer.

IT WAS Friend's turn Wednesday night and the comeback right-hander fired an eight-hitter that gave the Pirates a 5-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. This was Friend's fourth shutout and lifted his record to 9-3. Law, who won Tuesday night, stands 11-2, so the two have a combined 20-5 mark.

The victory enabled the Pirates to maintain their 3 game first-place lead over the Milwaukee Braves, who whipped the San Francisco Giants, 7-4.

THE PHILADELPHIA Phillies closed out a suspended Tuesday night game with a 7-6 win and then beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-3, in their regularly scheduled game in other National League action.

The New York Yankees increased their American League lead to 1½ games when they beat the Detroit Tigers, 7-3, for their sixth straight win. The Chicago White Sox downed the Baltimore Orioles, 3-1; the Cleveland Indians edged the Washington Senators, 1-0, and the Kansas City Athletics beat the Boston Red Sox, 2-1.

VAN AND STORAGE MEETS BOYS CLUB

The Boys Club Cubs tangle with Community Van and Storage as Pony League action resumes at 6 p.m., tonight, at the Polo Grounds ball diamond.

The game immediately precedes the regularly scheduled double-header for the Desert Softball League.

IN TUESDAY'S GAME, the Palm Springs Elks edged the Alejo Palms Pony entry, 3-2, with the game not decided until the last of the seventh inning.

The game had been a 2-2 tie most of the way with the Elks' Eric Teitelbaum and Jay Mead of the Alejo Palms nine hooked up in a tense pitching duel.

TEITELBAUM WAS relieved by Lloyd Chasson in the sixth frame and he not only continued Teitelbaum's impressive hurling but also led off the Elks half of the seventh with a single that proved to be the deciding margin. Chasson scored on Jim Prendergast's long looping single and that ended things.

Mead's hurling for the losers was nothing short of sensational. He dealt the Elks just three hits over the seven inning span and struck out 15 batters while he was at it.

New Salton Sea Boat Ramp Slated

SACRAMENTO — The Department of Fish and Game this week announced it will construct a 3-lane concrete boat launching ramp, a turning basin, an access channel, two protecting jetties, two miles of access road, 10,000 square feet of parking area, and sanitary facilities on the southeast shore of Salton Sea.

The project, to cost a total of $80,600, is to provide boating access to fishing and hunting areas in the southern part of Salton Sea.

Rosburg, Littler Set as Favorites

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — A scaled-down version of the annual Kansas City Open began today with a field of 135 golfers teeing off in a $15,000 pro-amateur invitational at the Brook Ridge Country Club.

Bob Rosburg, the current PGA champ and a touring pro from Brook Ridge, and Gene Littler, winner of the recent Oklahoma City Open, were co-favorites to take top money in the tournament.
